We have been able to reschedule their visit to 16 October 0900-1100. I would hope that you could take the first hour and I'll arrange a panel discussion on China for the second. The Assistant Director of the I.F. Program suggested you speak on the general topic of intelligence and foreign policy. The group, about 55, will be in the Auditorium and I suggest we meet there about 9 am. I'm attaching some info on the program and the students which may be of interest to you. Please let me know if any problems arise. Again, as I said on the phone, you have my sincere appreciation for your willingness to speak before this group on such short notice.

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

The International Fellows of Columbia University are making their semi-annual trip to Washington, D.C. on Thursday, October 15th and we would greatly appreciate it if you could arrange a briefing for us from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. in the auditorium. Last year, the Fellows very much enjoyed our briefing by Mr. Rae Huffstutler, Director of Strategic Research, and the panel discussion on China with Messrs. [Redacted] of the Office of Political Analysis and [Redacted] of the Office of Economic Research.

As you may recall from our recent phone conversation, the International Fellows are fifty of Columbia's most outstanding graduate students, selected for their achievements and leadership potential. They represent such academic and professional fields as political science, history, business, law, and journalism, and participate in a unique interdisciplinary course in international politics and foreign policy. Twice each year they are privileged with visits to Washington for a series of briefings with officials of public and private institutions concerned with international affairs. Enclosed is a current bulletin describing in further detail the Fellows and their activities. Please feel free to write or call if you have any further questions.

It is our hope that your analysts will find another discussion with the Fellows stimulating and enjoyable. They would certainly consider it a valuable and rewarding experience.

Cordially,

Reed D. Auerbach
